

Write a paragraph about the happiest moment of your life

The answer

Last week, I was walking in the street when I found a wallet. I took it to the police station. They took my telephone number. After two days, the owner of the wallet phoned me and gave me a reward. I was very happy. It was the happiest day of my life.